

Sunday Mail (Brisbane)

Sunday 4/05/2014

Page: 32
Section: General News
Region: Brisbane, AU
Circulation: 415184
Type: Capital City Daily
Size: 101.00 sq.cms.

slice

CUT STRAIGHT TO YOUR NEWS

press clip

WHAT TO EXPECT THIS WEEK

MONDAY

All Queensland correctional facilities will become tobacco and smoke free from today. As part of the measure, visitors will also be banned from taking tobacco and other smoking items, such as cigarette lighters, matches, papers and filters in.

TUESDAY

A woman accused of stealing money from a church collection plate and a parishioner's wallet during an Easter Sunday Gold Coast church service will reappear in court. Kellie Shea is accused of placing $2 on the collection plate while she lifted a $10 note, and then taking a wallet off a pew.

WEDNESDAY

The 12-day Anywhere Festival kicks off with performances such as Clown Stories from South America and the Drunk Shakespeare.

THURSDAY

Notorious helicopter prison escapee John Killick, 72, will have to front Brisbane police HQ after Queensland authorities sought his extradition over an outstanding jail term for armed robbery.

FRIDAY

The epic Chain Reaction Challenge Queensland 2014 cycling journey finishes today. The corporate cyclists are raising funds for autism charity AEIOU Foundation and the Starlight Children's Foundation.

SATURDAY

Comedian Rob Lloyd and his troop of scientists will probe the scientific mysteries of TV show Doctor Who in the stage show The Science of Doctor Who.

SUNDAY

It's Mother's Day. It's also the last day to catch contemporary Chinese artist Cai Guo-Qiang's large-scale installation show, Falling Back to Earth, at GoMA.